17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

There is a certain fast-food company that sells hamburgers. In their advertising, they claim that their product has the ability to satisfy our cravings. In fact, several television ads depict their hamburger calling people up on the phone, ostensibly getting them to stop whatever it is they are doing to satisfy their craving. Nothing can resist them! Is this company creative? Perhaps; but a better question might be, is their product fulfilling? For a brief period our hunger is satisfied, but as with all urges and cravings, they soon return.

Today's Gospel reading is the only miracle story told in all four Gospels, the feeding of the five thousand. It is theorized by some that one aspect of the miracle was Jesus' belief in our ability to share. As the baskets of fish and bread were passed, the people took what they needed but shared some of what they had, as well. But the greater symbolism to take away from today's reading is that Jesus Christ, the bread of life, removes all hunger and all needs and continues to nourish us forever. All that we crave truly resides in the loving arms of the Son of God.

According to the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC 2002), God has placed in all of us a longing for truth and goodness that only he can satisfy. "God immediately touches and directly moves the heart of man." The five thousand people had finally arrived at their destination, seeking to have their souls fed through the teachings of Jesus. And just as he instructed them to lie down in the grass, rest and be fed, so too are we to take this and every Sunday as an opportunity to rest, reflect, and be nourished by the Word of God.

Fr. Peter Update Fr. Peter is battling a round of infections. Unfortunately without regular exercise and a healthy appetite he is prone to infections. We are exploring ways to boost his nutrition, therefore helping his overall health. Please keep him in your prayers.

The Soup Kitchen Bucket will be in the lobby this weekend. Proceeds are used to buy food to serve the homeless at the Shalom Center.

School News I just saw the best little hole in the wall! It's at Saint Peter Church and School! The dramatic effect hit me as I stood and looked through. The worship space, the narthex, and the church hall were all unified as I caught a glimpse of each one through the hole in the wall. How simple, yet powerful, was that vision!

I've just returned from our annual family pilgrimage to South Carolina. My friends laugh when I call it a pilgrimage. They consider eighteen hours in a car with 4 girls more of a penance! I disagree. I learn so much about their hopes and dreams. I do a lot of listening- I claim it's because I need to concentrate on the road. I listen, though, because it pushes them to facilitate and keep the conversation going. I'm sure if I lead the discussion, I'd never find out that my ten year old takes delight in the food channel because she wants to have a cooking show. I think sometimes we reject the notion of simply listening because we are afraid others won't talk or will steer the conversation in a direction we don't want it to go. I'm a terrible cook. I'd much prefer if she would just play basketball- that I can help her with. But just seeing the sparkle in her eyes as she taught Max, the family dog, how to make Kool-Aid last night was precious! To cooking school we go! Now, if only she could teach Max to brew coffee.....

Inspire. Challenge. Engage.

Outdoor Mass Our first "Liturgy on the Green" was beautiful. Thanks to everyone who helped made this event happen:

- ◆ The parish men & Boy Scouts who 2 years ago started to clean up the area
- ◆ The Loewens who transported fill dirt and leveled the area last summer
- ◆ Randy's Landscaping who planted, watered and fertilized the grass
- ◆ Dennis and Ernest, our maintenance personnel who have cared for the lawn
- ◆ St. Peter parishioners whose stewardship support financed the reclamation of the area
- ◆ Our Prayer and Worship Committee who did the behind the scenes work to put it altogether
- ◆ Those who attended and offered fitting worship to God

Join us at our next outdoor mass on August 16 at 9:30 am, under the beautiful tall trees in the newly cleared area across the road from the rectory. Please bring your lawn chair.
